

NEXUS GLOBAL DYNAMIC PORTFOLIO A (USD)

A Sub Fund of Libero International SICAV plc

FACTSHEET - June 2024

INVESTMENT PROCESS

The fund manager's approach to investment combines strong valuation disciplines within a long-term strategic framework, together with a willingness to adjust asset allocation and stock selection in response to short term market opportunities. The Fund is not constrained by one particular investment style such as growth or value, but instead the manager believes that the best returns are achieved by correctly positioning the portfolio to benefit at all stages of each economic cycle. The manager has the mandate to search out value globally and is not constrained by benchmarks and so is well-placed to judge the relative merits of a wide range of investment opportunities. Irrespective of geographic locations, close attention is paid to individual companies in addition to understanding economic conditions. High conviction ideas are supported by a combination of quantitative analysis, in-house research and company visits.

MARKET COMMENTARY

After a tougher period in April, May was a good month for both equities and bonds. The Nexus Dynamic portfolio benefitted, returning +2.44% over the month.

Ongoing optimism about the economic outlook supported risk assets, with expectations of falling interest rates favouring growth stocks, which outperformed their value counterparts. After peaking in April, oil prices retreated during May.

In the US, disinflationary trends continued to stall. The latest inflation release showed only a modest slowing in headline and core categories, bringing year-over-year (YoY) rates down to 3.4% and 3.6%, respectively. In the eurozone, the European Central Bank (ECB) is more confident about the economy's disinflationary path, with wage growth continuing to moderate. In May headline and core inflation accelerated to 2.6% and 2.9% YoY respectively, but a June cut is now expected. In the UK headline inflation fell to 2.3% but services inflation remains high at 5.9%, making any hopes of a June rate cut from the Bank of England less likely.

As discussed in this month's theme, last month was a good month for Nvidia. Utilities also continued their strong run, with both NextEra and EDPR returning double digit returns in May, boosted in the main by investors' belief that power demand will surge due to the AI boom.

Data released in May tempered concerns of overheating in the US economy. While there is now some divergence in timing across regions, the next move for interest rates in the West is still likely to be lower. This, together with strong company fundamentals, should continue to support risk assets.

INVESTMENT THEMES

Nvidia

In May shares in Nvidia were up strongly after their results came in ahead of expectations. Q1 was strong with 262% growth YoY in revenue to $26bn, up 18% QoQ and 6% ahead of expectations. EPS growth was even stronger, up 629% YoY and 10% ahead of expectations. Gross margin was also ahead of consensus at 79% vs 77%, driven by lower inventory charges.
